Focus Realm Workspace
ANNOUNCEMENT · ALL INTERNS & EMPLOYEES

Calendar & Google Meet are live

You can now meet anyone on Google Meet, see your meetings on Home, and request time with the founders — all from the Calendar tab of the Workspace.

Workspace: `https://employee-management-sigma-sable.vercel.app`
Sign in with your employee ID (e.g. FR-0042) and password — never your email.

1. One-time setup (2 minutes) — everyone

1. Sign in to the Workspace and open Settings → Calendar invites.
2. Enter the Gmail / Google account where you want meeting invitations (the one you check on your phone). If you use your work email for this, leave it blank.
3. Click Save. Invitations will now arrive there, from Google Calendar, with the Meet link inside.

You do not need to connect or sign in to Google inside the Workspace. Only the founders connect calendars. If a "Google hasn't verified this app" screen ever appears for you, click Back to safety and tell a founder — it isn't meant for you.

Optional: when a founder shares the team calendar, Google emails you. Open it and click Add calendar to see team meetings in your own Google Calendar.

2. Using the Calendar tab

I want to…	What to do
Call someone now	Calendar → Meet now (or Meet now on their profile). Pick the person → Start call. A Google Meet tab opens and they get a notification with a Join button.
Schedule a meeting	Calendar → Schedule meeting: title, who, start time, length, agenda. Keep "Only people invited can see it" ticked for 1:1s and small meetings — others only see "busy" on the shared calendar. Untick it for team-wide meetings.
Meet a founder	Calendar → Request time with a founder. Pick the founder, say what it's about, suggest a time. The founder accepts, picks another time, or declines — you'll be notified, and once accepted you get a Google invite with a Meet link.
See when a founder is free	Founders' free time is private. In the request window click Ask to see when they're free and say how many meetings, how long, and why. If the founder approves, you'll see their open slots for 14 days — tap one to request it.
Join a meeting	Your next 7 days of meetings show on Home and in Calendar. The Join now button lights up 10 minutes before the start. You'll also get the Google invite and an in-app notification.

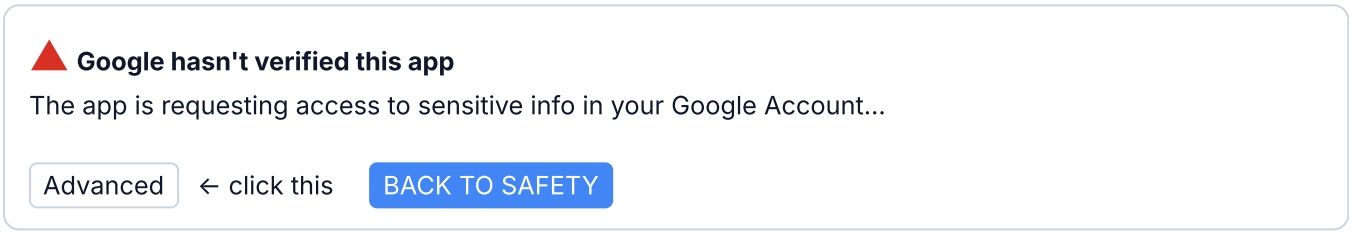

Cancel	Whoever set up the meeting (or a founder) can click Cancel on it — everyone is told.

Your daily summary on first login each day also lists today's meetings.

3. For founders: connecting calendars

Each founder connects their own calendar once; one founder connects the shared team calendar with the company Google account.

1. Workspace → Calendar → Connect Google Calendar (your own) or Connect team calendar (the shared account). Pick the right Google account — use Use another account if Chrome picks the wrong one.
2. You'll see "Google hasn't verified this app". This is expected: our app is new and Google's verification review is pending. It's our own Workspace, so it's safe to continue:

3. Click Advanced (bottom-left, small grey link).
4. Click Go to employee-management-sigma-sable.vercel.app (unsafe).
5. On the next screen, tick the calendar permission if asked, then Continue.
6. You're returned to the Calendar page with a green "connected" message. Done.

> "Access blocked … has not completed the Google verification process" (Error 403)? The Google account you used isn't allowed yet. Ask the admin (itsfocusrealm@gmail.com) to publish the app in Google Cloud, or add your Gmail as a test user — then try again.

After connecting the team calendar

- Click Share with everyone so the team can add it to their Google Calendar.
- Meeting requests to you appear under Waiting for your answer; requests to see your free time under Asking to see your free time.
- Accepted meetings go on your calendar, and a copy titled "Name × Founder — topic" goes on the shared calendar.

Privacy, in short

- Founders' calendars stay private; nobody sees their events — only open slots, and only after approval.
- Private meetings show as "busy" to everyone not invited.
- Google sign-ins are encrypted and never visible to anyone. Full policy: `…vercel.app/privacy` · Terms: `…vercel.app/terms`
