Focus Realm Workspace
ANNOUNCEMENT · ALL INTERNS & EMPLOYEES

Calendar & Google Meet are live

You can now meet anyone on Google Meet, see your meetings on Home, and request time with the founders — all from the Calendar tab of the Workspace.

Workspace: `https://employee-management-sigma-sable.vercel.app`
Sign in with your employee ID (e.g. FR-0042) and password — never your email.

1. One-time setup (2 minutes) — everyone

1. Sign in to the Workspace and open Settings → Calendar invites.
2. Enter the Gmail / Google account where you want meeting invitations (the one you check on your phone). If you use your work email for this, leave it blank.
3. Click Save. Invitations will now arrive there, from Google Calendar, with the Meet link inside.

You do not need to connect or sign in to Google inside the Workspace. Only the founders connect calendars. If a "Google hasn't verified this app" screen ever appears for you, click Back to safety and tell a founder — it isn't meant for you.

2. Using the Calendar tab

I want to…	What to do
Call someone now	Calendar → Meet now (or Meet now on their profile). Pick the person → Start call. A Google Meet tab opens and, if they have the Workspace open, their screen rings with a Join button.
Schedule a meeting	Calendar → Schedule meeting: title, who, start time, length, agenda. Keep "Only people invited can see it" ticked for 1:1s and small meetings — others only see "busy" on the shared calendar. Untick it for team-wide meetings.
Meet a founder	Calendar → Request time with a founder. Pick the founder, say what it's about, suggest a time. The founder accepts, picks another time, or declines — you'll be notified, and once accepted you get a Google invite with a Meet link.
Several calls in one block	E.g. 4 interviews of 15 min: in the request set Slots = 4 and Each slot = 15 min, and name each guest. Once the founder accepts, every slot gets its own Meet link and a Copy invite button — a ready-to-send, professional invite for the outside person (email or WhatsApp).
See when a founder is free	Founders' free time is private. In the request window click Ask to see when they're free and say how many meetings, how long, and why. If the founder approves, you'll see their open slots for 14 days — tap one to request it.

Join a meeting	Your next 7 days of meetings show on Home and in Calendar. The Join now button lights up 10 minutes before the start. You'll also get the Google invite and an in-app notification.
Cancel	Whoever set up the meeting (or a founder) can click Cancel on it — everyone is told.

Your daily summary on first login each day also lists today's meetings.

3. Make sure meetings show up in your Google Calendar

Meeting invites come from our shared Focus Realm Team Google account. Google hides invites from senders it doesn't know, so do this once:

1. On a computer, open calendar.google.com with the Gmail you entered in step 1 → ⚙ Settings → Event settings.
2. Set "Add invitations to my calendar" to From everyone.
3. Click Yes ("Going?") on the first invite email from the Focus Realm Team account — Google then trusts it.
4. To see all team meetings: open the "Focus Realm Team" share email and click Add calendar (or the Add it to your Google Calendar link on the Workspace Calendar page).

> Nobody needs the team account's password, and nobody needs to sign in to Google inside the Workspace. If a "Google hasn't verified this app" screen ever appears for you, click Back to safety — it isn't meant for you.

Privacy, in short

- Founders' calendars stay private; nobody sees their events — only open slots, and only after approval.
- Private meetings show as "busy" to everyone not invited.
- Google sign-ins are encrypted and never visible to anyone. Full policy: `…vercel.app/privacy` · Terms: `…vercel.app/terms`
